Hamsa Irene RINALDI (operatic soprano) was born in Rome. She graduated in singing from the Santa Cecilia's Conservatory in Rome. She studied under Ilaria Piccin and received further voice training from the acclaimed Franca Forgiero. She is currently continuing her studies with the Norwegian soprano Elizabeth Norberg-Schulz. She attended acting classes, in Italian diction and dubbing at the "Piccola Accademia della Comunicazione e dello Spettacolo" of Stefano Jurgens. The experience with yoga has enabled her to develop a vocal discipline and an involvement of body, mind and spirit. She attended the MasterClass "L'OPERA PIANISTICA DI GEORGE GERSHWIN"(2015) e "I LOVEs YOU

GERSHWIN"(2016) given by teacher Stefano Micheletti, at the Conservatory of Music of Santa Cecilia, improving her technique and her interpretation about George Gershwin's songs.

The experience with yoga has allowed her to develop a vocal discipline and a complete involvement of body, mind and soul.

Her versatility led her to attend the following courses: "Scenic art" workshop given by teacher Pietro Spagnoli, "Directing" with Giuseppe Piccioni, Daniele Lucchetti and Antonello Grimaldi, "Background music and Soundtracks" with Ludovico Einaudi, "Film review" with Flavio De Bernardinis, "Screenplay" with Franco Bernini and Gualtiero Rosella, "Vocal technique for Musicals" with Donatella Pandimiglio. "Jazz improvisation" with Cinzia Spata.

She integrated the ancient Hawaiian Lomi Lomi Nui massage into the discipline of yoga, attending a professional training course at the Agàpi center and one at the Institute of Human Sciences (ISU). This holistic technique aims to bring relaxation, harmony and love, through breath, dance, touch and music, which are elements that have always been part of his life.
